

shall serve as My Declaration of Expatriation from the corporate government of the United States. I furthermore seek no benefit, exercise no privilege, pledge no allegiance, lend no support, swear not to defend, nor otherwise submit Myself to any authority or jurisdiction of the corporate government of the United States.

I am not the holder of, in possession of, claim no property right to, nor accept as Mine any Social Security Number, Taxpayer Identification Number, Drivers License Number, or other identifying number used in administering privileges and benefits by government. Any prior reference to such numbers was in error and ascribed to ignorance, and all such numbers, being the property of those agencies issuing such, are hereafter surrendered and rescinded.

My name is not acknowledged by me to be MARK MCCOY. I am not the holder of, in possession of, claim no property right to, nor accept as Mine, any government issued or commercial document bearing a name "MARK MCCOY". I do not acknowledge nor accept anything to represent My name if I have not affixed My signature as representing My name. I cannot be required, nor compelled, to affix My signature to anything against My will, under direction or demand of another, under threat, duress, or coercion. I do not claim to have a name, but I choose to use a name. My name is My way of having others refer to My person. Any government issued, or commercial document, bearing a name MARK MCCOY, does not reflect My name, since the name MARK MCCOY was affixed to such documents by the issuing entity and are therefore not Mine, but instead the property of the issuing entity. Any documents previously promulgated by government or commercial entities was done so under fraud, deceit, or coercion and are not binding upon Me. I will honor whatever contractual agreements I have made pursuant to My voluntarily affixing My signature to such documents, provided a substantiation for any lawful claim can withstand objections based on fraud, duress, or coercion.

I claim as Mine, and Mine alone, ALL of the products of my industry; arising from my labor and effort in My natural capacity, and thereby do NOT accept or acknowledge ANY obligation or duty, either morally or lawfully, to remit ANY tax or fee for whatever property, compensation, wage, or value I receive in the marketplace, through private contracts, for the efforts or products resulting in the application of My physical or mental labor.

I am not bound by ANY holding of ANY court where I was not a willing party to a case giving rise to such holding. NO court, or body of men, can define My rights; define MY understanding of what is reasonable; define My understanding of privacy; or otherwise make any determination, define standards, or bind Me to any other opinion not of My own.

I do not aver to the theory of submitting to the "will of the majority", "the betterment of society", "the greater good", or other contrived platitudes used to invoke emotion and circumvent logic in manipulating the will of the majority to compel and control the will of the individual. It is My belief that society cannot exist, absent fully autonomous, independent, and sovereign individuals who may choose to become a member of society through choice rather than being conscripted through coercion or fraud.
