

a member of My chosen society, and last a member of a political body. I will avail Myself to protect and defend all just, righteous, and moral individuals who seek My aid in preserving their like life, liberty, and property. I abhor ignorance, intolerance, violence, tyranny, oppression, apathy, aggression, and evil in whatever form, or acted upon in whatever name or authority. My time on this earth is temporary and subject to the terms set forth by My Creator. I have but one duty, and that is to live in accordance with the conscience I am blessed with. As a result of such exercise, mankind and society will incur no burden on My behalf, suffer no injury, and be none diminished. All of My actions are voluntarily, purposeful, and wholly My responsibility. I claim no responsibility for the feelings, thoughts, or acts of others who make themselves subject to whatever external influence may be perceived by My autonomous actions. I believe I have a duty, as a condition of the bountiful gifts which My Creator has bestowed upon Me, to avail Myself to others who find comfort, value, and knowledge in My gifts and who seek to share in that bounty which I enjoy. I will give charitably, generously, and graciously, as dictated by My will and capacity alone, and in whatever manner I deem fit for My benefit.

Therefore, to a candid world be known that I, Mark McCoy, having exhausted all reasonable means at My disposal to claim and assert My natural rights to self-determination, autonomy, sovereignty, and freedom; and as a last resort, make the aforesaid statement as My Public Declaration of Sovereignty, Expatriation, and Dissolution of all Previous National and Political Allegiance; and will with all the power possessed by Me through My Creator, swear that I will act and live according to the dictates of My conscience, in a reasonable, responsible, peaceable, and rational manner; will do intentional harm to any no other or their property; and be accountable only to My Creator for My earthly transgressions, submitting Myself to just atonement and compensation for any intentional acts against, or breaches of duty to, the life, liberty, or property of another.

So help Me God!

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Mark McCoy', written in a cursive style.

Mark McCoy

December 26, 2007