

I am a natural-born, independent, free-man who, at the time of My birth, entered this world under the care of My natural parents and in full possession of all the rights, faculties, freedoms, and power I would ever possess for the term of My natural life.

I aver only to a natural world, and disavow constructs, artifices, and entities created by the mind and hand of man when such may deem to bind or subject Me to any power exercised thereunder.

I understand, believe, and have come to know that there is NO power on this earth superior to the personal power endowed to Me by My Creator. There may be superior force designed to compel My obedience and compliance, but such force, when exercised by unjust power, is nothing more than naked aggression, tyranny, and evil.

I reserve My natural right to exercise any and all means of self-defense with any and all weapons or devices at My disposal against any and all aggressors that may result in harm or death to Myself or others who may assail Me.

I reserve My right to possess anything I may call "property", that I have acquired by My own just, peaceful efforts, and which may consist of any plant, animal, mineral, composition, machine, device, drug, weapon, or product. I may possess such for My own purposes, defined by My own intentions, and that which does not pose an immediate threat or harm to the life or property of another. Any attempt to deprive Me of My "property" will be met with defense thereof to whatever extent necessary to preserve such.

I unequivocally declare that I am the Supreme earthly authority over My physical person; spiritually bound to My Creator, and subject only to the just adjudication by My Creator for all My earthly transgressions. I am a Sovereign power unto Myself, posing no threat whatsoever to the just exercise of the like Sovereignty of other autonomous, self-determinate People.

I admit to having submitted to the demands and will of others who exercised influence and authority over Me, at times to My detriment, without My full informed consent; but rather out of intimidation, fear, and ignorance.

I do not acknowledge any authority, power, or jurisdiction as a consequence of My physical presence, wherever such may be claimed; nor submit to any of the aforementioned as a consequence of My actions in enjoying or exercising any of My natural rights in a peaceable manner.

I do not seek the consent, acknowledgement, approval, permission, or recognition of anybody or anything in My display of honor or obedience to My Creator; the manner in which I worship; or the actions I may take in the exercise of any and all gifts, blessings, freedom, or rights I believe are bestowed by Him. I believe it is My right and duty to defend, with force if necessary, any intrusion or interference with My relationship with My Creator.

I have not adopted or accepted any definition of rights, liberty, freedoms, or identity promulgated by any earthly power. I have not attempted to enumerate any of My rights, as endowed by
